PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Product Manager | Ricochet360

Remote · May 2024 – Present

- Conceived and launched an AI-powered call transcription and scoring feature that converts conversations into structured performance evaluations, directly improving agent coaching and sales outcomes.
- Architected an AI-driven lead status automation system, reducing untracked leads from 40% to 16% and introducing a usage-based pricing model to unlock new revenue streams.
- Spearheaded a year-long UI transformation initiative encompassing system performance, data reliability, and UX enhancements, resulting in measurable improvements across key product metrics.
- Designed and executed an internal A2P messaging experiment—validating SMS behavior with/without vCards on iOS—defining success metrics, use cases, and carrier compliance criteria.
- Optimized support operations through process improvements and tooling enhancements, cutting response times by 15–20% and reducing ticket volume by 18%.
- Authored detailed technical documentation for engineering and deployment teams, ensuring precise requirement handoffs and accelerating sprint delivery.
